Govt will not remain mute spectator if girl students are harassed: Stalin

Chennai, July 27: Asserting that the Tamil Nadu government will not remain a mute spectator if girl students were harassed, Chief Minister M.K.Stalin on Tuesday issued a stern warning against the perpetrators of such crimes and assured stringent punishment against them. In his address at the golden Jubilee celebrations of the Gurunanak College in the city, he said the government will not remain a mute spectator if girl students were harassed either sexually, emotionally or physically and would bring the perpetrators to book. Calling upon the institutions providing education to treat it as a service to the society not as commercial ventures, the Chief Minister students enroll in educational institutions not merely to earn degrees. The institutions should instill self-confidence, courage and determination in students. ?Students from Tamil Nadu should be able to face any challenge. Students, especially girls should be able to face any insults or disturbances with courage”, he added. ?Under any circumstances, students should not be forced to end their lives. You [students] have come so far after overcoming several challenges. You need to convert challenges into achievements,? he said, advised the girl students not to have any thought of taking the extreme step.

Three TN wetlands declared as Ramsar sites, CM greets

Chennai, July 27: Pallikaranai marshland in Chennai, Pichavaram mangroves in Cuddalore, and Karikili bird sanctuary in Chengalpattu got the coveted international recognition.

Chennai's Pallikaranai marsh Cuddalore's Pichavaram mangroves, and Chengalpattu's Karikili bird sanctuary are the new Ramsar sites. With Pallikaranai Marsh, Pichavaram mangroves ; Karikili bird sanctuary now being recognised as new Ramsar sites - the most prestigious International recognition for wetlands - TN now has four Ramsar sites including Kodiakkara. I congratulate TN Forest Dept on this milestone.

coming as a perfect start to the Tamil Nadu Wetland

Mission, launched recently by Chief Minister MK Stalin, three wetlands in the State were declared as Ramsar Sites on Tuesday. Pallikaranai marshland in Chennai, Pichavaram mangroves in Cuddalore, and Karikili bird sanctuary in Chengalpattu got the coveted international recognition.

Union Environment Minister Bhupender Yadav announced in a tweet. Pichavaram is home to one of the largest mangrove forests in the world, and Karikili bird sanctuary is an abode of migratory birds, especially ducks and waders. Its proximity to the internationally-renowned Vedanthangal bird sanctuary makes it a high-priority wetland.

“Of the three, getting Ramsar recognition for Pallikaranai marshland is the sweetest because it is the first urban wetland in the heart of the metropolitan city to be able to meet stringent qualifying criteria laid out by the Ramsar Convention at Geneva in Switzerland,” Supriya Sahu, Additional Chief Secretary of the Environment Department, told TNIE.

Pallikaranai marsh is one of the last remaining natural wetlands of

Stalin to announce site for second airport in Chennai

Chennai, July 27: The site for the second airport in Chennai is likely to be announced by CM MK Stalin after discussions with Industries Minister Thangam Thennarasu and Industries Secretary S Krishnan.

Stating that discussions were held with Civil Aviation Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia over site clearance for the two shortlisted airports Pannur in Tiruvallur and Parandur in Kanchipuram, Thennarasu, while speaking to reporters in Delhi, said the site will be finalised by the CM, adding that TN was pushing for a second airport for Karur.

The minister also said the expansion of airports in Chennai, Coimbatore, Chennai, and is critical for draining floodwater from south Chennai, besides recharging groundwater and moderating climate. In the 1900s, it was spread over 6,000 hectares, of which 90% has been lost to urbanisation. Today, just over 690 hectares are under the control of the State forest department and managed by the Conservation Authority of Pallikaranai Marshland.

Madurai, Salem, and Tiruchy were discussed during the meeting. Meanwhile, discussions were held to set up an aircraft Maintenance Repair and Overhaul (MRO) complex near Chennai Airport. It is learnt that a proposal has been sent to the Airport Authority of India for access to the airport's airstrip, essential for MRO operation.

Comments on social media will be monitored: Commissioner Jiwai

Chennai, July 27: As part of security arrangements made for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Chennai, Commissioner Shankar Jiwai inspected the security arrangements last night and addressed the media. He mentioned that comments on social media are also being monitored during the Prime Minister's visit.

Earlier, Jiwai has invoked a ban on flying drones and other unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV) in Chennai on July 28 and 29.

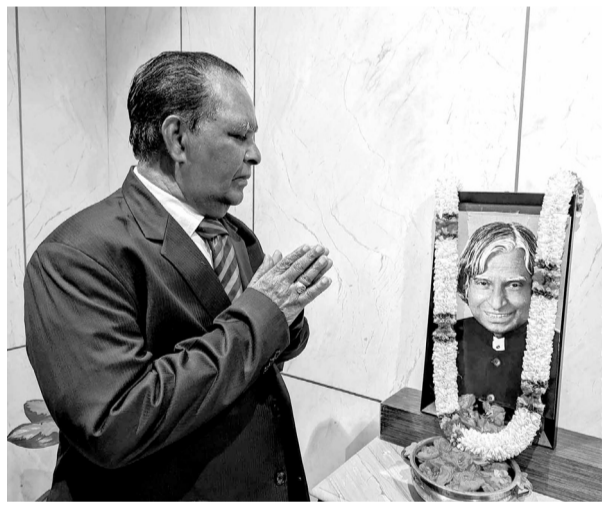

Modi will reach Chennai on Thursday to inaugurate the 44th Chess Olympiad and on Friday, he will be presiding over the graduation ceremony at Anna University.

All senior police officers- additional commissioners, seven joint commissioners and 26 deputy commissioners will be overseeing the security arrangements for the two days.

Security will be tightened in and around the Olympiad venue, Mahabalipuram and in Anna University, police added.

Police teams have initiated checks across lodges, hotels and service apartments across the city to identify if any suspicious person has checked in to the premises in the recent past.

Security has also been beefed up at all important transport hubs across Chennai.

On the 7th death anniversary of former President A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, Industrialist VGP Chairman V.G. Santhosham paid his respects.

Sri Sathya Sai Samithi donates RO to Siruseri Primary School

Chennai, July 27: On behalf of the Karanai Samithi, Sevadal Members of Sri Sathya Sai Seva Organisation presented a RO system to the Siruseri Panchayat Primary School and also to the Anganwadi Center functioning for more than 71 children. Though the panchayat has been making the supply of potable water to the school, it was felt that a RO system, if installed in the school would add the supply of drinking water to the children of the school.

At a function held recently in the school, the Sevadal members donated the RO and its ancillaries to the Siruseri Panchayat President C. Devaraj and the school Headmistress Mrs Velankanni.

K a r a n a i Samithi Convenor K.S.Venkitanarayanan, the former Convenor of the Samithi L.R.Subramaniam and other sevadal members were present at the distribution function. The Samithi also supplied 23 plates to the children of the Anganwadi to take their nutritious meals being supplied every day to them.
